SHOT DOWN BY ANGRY WOMAN

MRS. PANKHURST ARRIVES; DEPORTED

MILITANT IS ORDERED BACK

Board of Inquiry Votes to Send Suffragette to France

Find Conviction Was for Crime Within the Class Excluded

Did Mrs. Pankhurst start a hunger strike when in the deportation station at Ellis Island? She did not.

The suffragette leader ordered soup, sandwiches, chicken, and last, but not least, several cups of tea.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English militant suffragette leader, who arrived here today for a lecture tour, was ordered deported by the immigration authorities within a little less than three hours after the vessel on which she came had docked.

The special board of inquiry which decided her case voted not to admit her to the country under bond, but to send her back to France forthwith.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, English militant suffragette leader, arriving in New York today, was denied admission to the country by a special board of inquiry determined that her prison record in England was such that she should be excluded from the United States.

Mrs. Pankhurst was detained aboard the liner Provence when it docked. A tug was commissioned to take her to Ellis Island, where a special board of inquiry convened and speedily rendered a verdict.

The board determined that Mrs. Pankhurst's conviction in England was for a crime involving moral turpitude. That she consequently came within the class excluded by the immigration act.

(LAWS OFFENSES POLITICAL.)

To inspectors who questioned her aboard the Provence Mrs. Pankhurst asserted that her conviction was for a political offense and that it was generally understood her sentence had expired when she left England for

FAMOUS BATHS TO GO UNDER HAMMER

Sutro Tanks and Buildings to Be Sold at Auction

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Sutro baths, which contain the largest swimming tank on the Pacific coast, will pass out of the possession of the Sutro heirs at public auction next Monday, October 29, under an order of court to close the estate of Adolph Sutro.

The baths were designed and built by Adolph Sutro at a time when he owned approximately one-tenth of all the land on which the city of San Francisco now stands. His wish was that ultimately they should become the property of the city, and in this desire the heirs concurred, but when the opportunity to take them over came before the city at a bond election, the proposition was defeated.

Nearly all the Pacific coast records and a number of world's records have been made and broken by the Sutro baths. They will be used again next week in the Portola swimming championships.

Conroy Is Named Appellate Judge

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18.—Governor Conroy today named Superior Judge N. P. Conroy of Los Angeles as appellate judge of the Second district to succeed the late Justice Mathew Allen, who died about a year ago. The second district appellate court sits in Los Angeles county.

MURDER EVIDENCE REVEALED IN BAY

Unidentified Corpse May Lead to Expose of Thug Gang

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The finding of the mutilated body of an unidentified man floating in the bay at 6:30 this morning has started the police on a search of the water front in an effort to capture a gang of thugs who may have murdered him and thrown his body overboard. The fact that all but one of the pockets in the man's clothing were turned inside out lends color to the theory that he was murdered.

Ward Albie, of 6 Norton Place, was on Pier 17 when he saw something floating near the dock and got a line to it. The morgue was notified and Deputy Coroner Becker reached the scene simultaneously with Detectives Kalmbach and Kling.

The turning inside out of the pockets where money was usually carried was also deemed as significant. The man was of light complexion, smooth shaven, heavy build, 180 pounds, feet 10, and had very black shoes No. 8 with hot nails.

There was no coat, vest or hat, the man being attired only in his under clothing and brown trousers. His hair was dark and he was partly bald.

Forest Fire Now Menaces Many Homes

SAN JOSE, Oct. 18.—Menacing the country homes of San Franciscans and endangering the towns of Wrights, Lexington, Eva and Alma, the southeast split of the Santa Cruz mountain fire is racing wildly today in the big timber on the northern slope of the mountains. It has leaped across the Southern Pacific tracks at Zayante station and the fighters do what they can to stem its progress as controlled until it reaches the summit or the range.

This would mean the destruction of tens of thousands of dollars worth of redwood timber, as well as many costly summer residences nestled on the northern slope of the range above Wrights. All telephone lines are down beyond Montezuma school on the Bear Creek summit.

Zayante canyon is a mass of flames and has been an inmate of the Almhouse for three years.

'Gusher' IS MASS OF FIRE

Profitable Well of S. P. Oil Field Burns Fiercely

Pillar of Flame Follows When Borers Make Dick Strike

TAPT, Cal., Oct. 18.—Within an hour after No. 21 well of the Southern Pacific Company's subsidiary, the Kern Trading and Oil Company, came in at 3:30 o'clock this morning with a flow of a thousand barrels an hour, it caught fire, and is now a roaring blazing pillar of fire and smoke.

Although a gusher was expected, it was not thought that the oil bearing sands would be reached for at least another fifty feet, so the workmen were unprepared with their tools in the well when the rush came.

The gushing oil filled the small rig sump in less than an hour and overflowed into a pump owned by the May Oil Company, on a lower level. There was a wash of fire from the lower sump and a few minutes later the entire rigging was a solid mass of flames.

No effort is being made to extinguish the fire, which promises to burn for weeks before it can be brought under control. All attention is being paid instead to surrounding property, which includes a 3000 barrel gusher that came in last week and the May No. 9.

READY FOR HANGING? PRISONER QUESTIONS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 18.—No one took the trouble to tell Wesley Robinson, a negro, under sentence of death for the murder of his wife and step-daughter, that he was not to be hanged on the date originally set for his execution, so he made all preparations for the ordeal this morning.

The gaunt black, six feet two inches tall, unshaven, but determined to be a man, dressed himself carefully and sitting on the edge of his cot waited for the death summons.

After an hour a deputy marshal appeared and the negro in a quaking voice asked:

"Is there not ready, boss?"

"Ready for what?"

"For the—for the—for the—uh hangin'."

The deputy marshal then explained that an appeal to the supreme court had acted as a reprieve. Robinson seemed disappointed.

Robinson confessed that he killed his wife and step-daughter and burned their bodies in his own back yard.

JILT WORTH $100,000: WOMAN AGED 40 CLAIMS

KANKAKEE, Ill., Oct. 18.—That W. A. Latham of Kankakee gave Miss Florence Bliss, aged 40, almost $10,000 during his alleged courtship, Attorney Haynes for Miss Bliss declared in his opening statement in the suit brought by Miss Bliss against him for breach of promise.

The couple met on a train, en route to Saskatchewan, in the summer of 1910. At that time the plaintiff was undergoing financial embarrassment and Latham, worth several hundred thousand dollars, it is alleged, became so infatuated with her that he made her loans.

It is claimed the couple were to have been married about the following Thanksgiving but were prevented by the interference of Latham's children, and that he suggested that the two elope to Windsor, Ont., but the plaintiff refused.

Miss Bliss will testify in vindication of the charges that she was unworthy of her suitor.

TRIPLETS BORN ABOARD NEW LINER IN MID-SEA

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—When the steamship Palliser, of the Australian Line, arrived here at the end of its cruise, every member of the crew wore a broad smile. The newest of Atlantic liners is destined to be lucky if sea long counts for anything.

This is the reason. The triplets who were born on board, the first triplets ever to be born on a liner, were the daughters of Mrs. Anna Fenton, who, coming on the ship at Panama, had come here to join her husband, who preceded her by a few months and took a position in Philadelphia.

The babies were born on September 2. The mother was strong enough to come ashore without assistance.

RETIREMENT OF HUERTA AWAITED

Washington Officials Expect Advices of Successor From Mexico City.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 18.—"William Sulzer, a victim of corrupt bosses, October 17, 1913," is the inscription on a silver loving cup which a committee of local citizens planned to present to Governor Sulzer. It is announced that Sulzer's admirers would gather tonight and, preceded by a band, parade to the "People's house" to make the presentation.

President Wilson went to the golf links early, as is his week-end custom, and Secretary Bryan was out of the city.

No messages had been received earlier today bearing any reference whatever to the rumors that Huerta had placed his resignation before the cabinet. Two long cablegrams from Charge O'Shaughnessy, reaching here before daylight, described only general conditions in the Mexican capital, making no predictions.

Despite the lack of advices, however, there was almost a feeling of confidence in administration circles that Huerta was being pressed by his friends to retire. But officials here admitted a change in administration in Mexico City was expected.

The gay's program, with Judge Graham for master of ceremonies, included the proposition for Mayor Ralph to pitch, with Mayor Mott of Oakland for baton, at the opening of the play.

Great Britain's attitude, however, was the demand for seats that they were almost sold out yesterday. The seats will be sold up to the hour of the game, at the park and at 34 Market street, the price being as usual. The free list was suspended absolutely.

The moving picture men were on the ground early, preparing especially for the field meet between the members of the two teams, scheduled to begin at 1:30. Special Portola prizes were announced several days ago for these events.

GYLLEN PREPARES OFFICE

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Today was moving day in Albany. Governor Glynn was busy preparing to move his office equipment from the quarters on the third floor of the capitol, which he has occupied since the beginning of the impeachment proceedings, to the executive suite on the second floor. At the "People's House," William Sulzer and Mrs. Sulzer were collecting their personal belongings and making ready to leave Albany. In the Senate chamber workers were dismantling the fixtures which for a time transformed the only walled chamber into a veiled and velvet draped courtroom. Official business was at a standstill.

Governor Glynn arrived at the capitol shortly before noon and settled down to the routine of his office. He announced that he would move into the executive suite on Monday.

Sulzer gave no intimation where he and his wife would go after leaving the executive mansion. A "farewell demonstration" by local sympathizers will be held tonight.

SCREAMS OF CHILD FRIGHTEN BURGLAR

The scream of Little Laura Stars, the 10-year-old niece of Mrs. Amelia Silver, owner of a grocery store at 1311 Eighteenth avenue, last evening prevented the rifling of the store by a masked burglar.

The child had been sent into the rear of the closed store by her aunt and as she made her way to the front entrance of the place she confronted a tall man wearing a black handkerchief over his eyes. The child screamed and the burglar darted out of the door, which he had forced in his entrance.

AGED MILLIONAIRE AN EXPERT HORSEMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—That Loren Coburn, octogenarian millionaire, who is making a legal battle before Superior Judge George Cabaniss and a jury in Redwood City to have his competency restored, is an expert horseman, was shown yesterday in the examination of Arthur Nelson, a grain merchant.

Nelson declared that within the last two weeks he saw Coburn handling two young colts with skill.

That he was a shrewd business man able to handle his own affairs was testified to by Alfred Gonzales, Barker; E. A. Jones, clerk of the Grand Central hotel; John A. Skinner, bank cashier, and Joseph Hooper, financier.

There is a modern 5-room bungalow, with large sleeping porch, and equipped with hot and cold water, electric lights, telephone and other modern conveniences on the property, besides a well of fine water for domestic use, windmill, tank and outbuildings, including chicken houses, yards and runways, fully equipped for 1000 chickens. GENEVA ASTRONOMER SAYS MARS SIGNALS US

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 18.—M. le Coutre, a distinguished astronomer of Geneva, is the latest scientist to arrive at the conclusion that the inhabitants of the planet Mars are signaling to the earth.

During observations which lasted several days, the astronomer remarked a number of luminous apparitions of a bluish white color like the light of a powerful electric arc lamp. These illuminations which usually lasted some seconds, were observed on several different nights.

MISS HUES TO LECTURE ON MENTAL EVOLUTION

Miss Frances C. Hues will lecture at the Auditorium, Thirteenth and Jefferson streets, Oakland, Sunday evening, October 19, at 8 o'clock. Her subject will be "Some of the Effects of Radical Agitation on Mental Evolution." Miss Hues has traveled widely and has made a careful study of the effects of new economic and political conditions on both sexes. Admission to this lecture is free and the public is invited.

PORTOLA BALL GAME THIS AFTERNOON

First Event of Favorite Festival Announced for Today.

Mayor Mott and Ralph Will Be in on the First Ball Pitched.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—San Francisco today began to celebrate the Portola festival. The annual Portola ball game between the Oakland and San Francisco clubs, with both sides of the bay in a fury over it, gave the holiday spirit an emphasis that won't be dimmed till the end of the fests, a week from today.

It is the biggest fan's ball program ever mapped out, and the declaration was made before the start of the preliminary parade that record crowd was assured to help the Portola finance campaign.

SOCIETY AT HAND

And society was on hand, too. A committee of society women and girls volunteered several days ago to help the Portola by selling flowers at the grounds. This committee includes Mrs. Dent H. Robert, Mrs. Wallace Bartholomew, Mrs. E. C. Greenfield, Mrs. Oscar Choplin, Mrs. Charles S. Young, Mrs. McClure Kelly, Mrs. S. Brady, Mrs. W. A. Drennan, Miss Mildred Lemar, Miss Aileen Code, Miss Helen Hamilton and Miss Ethel Booth.

Long before the time scheduled for the assemblage of the parade in front of the Palace hotel, crowds were in evidence. Three little sisters, as cute as fairies, were added to the parade. They are Clara Soper, 10 years old; Grace, 9, and Ruth, 8, and they will be attendants to the ruler of pageantry in the parades. They live in East Oakland.

Miss Ethel de Roos as Miss San Francisco, and Miss Louise Graul, captain of the mounted heralds, were ready for the parade.

By special arrangement the members of Musicians' Local No. 6, A. F. of M., volunteered to help the Portola benefit and 25 pieces were given a place in the head of the procession, under the leadership of Dexter M. Wright.

The auto caravan for the ball players was donated by the Pacific Sightseeing Company.

In the parade there were cars not only for the players and the Portola fans, but for members of the Portola committee.

THE LINE OF MARCH.

The line of march was announced as follows: From the Palace hotel starting at 1 p. m., down Market to Main street, up California to Kearny, to Sutter, to Grant avenue, to Market, and out to Recreation Park.

A spangled color was lent by cowboys, including Bob Ford, Ray Hill and Jim Manning, scheduled to do cowboy stunts with their ropes on the ball grounds before the athletic contests between members of the Oakland and San Francisco teams.

The gay's program, with Judge Graham for master of ceremonies, included the proposition for Mayor Ralph to pitch, with Mayor Mott of Oakland for baton, at the opening of the play.

Great Britain's attitude, however, was the demand for seats that they were almost sold out yesterday. The seats will be sold up to the hour of the game, at the park and at 34 Market street, the price being as usual. The free list was suspended absolutely.

The moving picture men were on the ground early, preparing especially for the field meet between the members of the two teams, scheduled to begin at 1:30. Special Portola prizes were announced several days ago for these events.

GREAT BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE.

The attitude of Great Britain, according to those who know the views of the Washington administration, is causing some concern. American officers learned that Sir Lionel Carden presented his credentials to Huerta the day after he had proclaimed himself as dictator. It had been confidently expected here that, in line with earlier advice that Great Britain had extended recognition to Huerta as provisional president pending an election, that he would now be regarded as a constitutional ruler in view of his nullification of constitutional restrictions. It is possible that diplomatic inquiries may be made through Ambassador Page as to the intentions of the British foreign office.

DEPUTIES ARRAIGNED.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 18.—Seventy-four of the 110 members of the Mexican Chamber of Deputies arrested by order of Provisional President Huerta October 10, were formally arraigned today before the second judge of the federal district, who had charge of the investigation into the case. The period for filing charges against the deputies expired today.

The charges entered against the deputies today were all for political offenses designed by the law as rebellion, sedition and "insults" to public functionaries.

Ten of the deputies against whom there was said to be insufficient evidence were released. The others had been previously set at liberty. It was expected yesterday that Rodolfo Revives, formerly provisional minister of justice, and Jorge Estanol, formerly minister of public instruction, would be released, but they were among those kept in custody.

THE OLD SCHOOL TYPES ARE NOVEL

The old square school building of two and three stories, with poor lighting system and indifferent ventilation, is passing from Oakland, and in its stead an absolutely new type of building is going up under the supervision of John I. Donavan, architect in charge, working under the direction of the Oakland board of education. This innovation has already met with favorable comment from educators and architects in all sections of the country, and Oakland is taking its place as one of the leading educational centers in the United States.

The first of the new type of school buildings to be completed is the College avenue grammar school. It contains the features which will be embodied in the many other new school structures which are now under course of construction. The College avenue school is of northern Italian type of architecture, one story in height, of fireproof construction, with the exterior finish of concrete plaster.

The structure stands on a corner lot with an entrance rotunda from which radiate two wings making the building L-shaped. This rotunda serves as the assembly hall in a separate building immediately behind the rotunda. A continuation of the assembly hall, in the shape of a covered pergola, extends to the back end of the lot and divides the schoolyard into two triangular playgrounds, one for the boys and one for the girls.

BERKELEY AND ALAMEDA

PROTEST MADE AGAINST TAX NEED MORE ROOM FOR AGRICULTURE

Wahmedans Opposed to Giving Land and Then Being Assessed.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 15.—Discussion as to the creation of an assessment district for the purpose of purchasing ten feet of property of Mrs. H. Dechesne at the University of California, took up a large amount of time at a meeting of the committee of the whole of the Alameda city council last night. Representatives of property in the proposed district appeared and protested against the carrying through of the assessment under the present district. In view of this, it was re-referred to the special committee, with instructions to increase the size of the proposed district so as to cut the assessment down to an average of 15 cents per foot.

It was stated that an average of one cent per foot will be required by the district, and that each property owner in the district will be required to pay that amount, but that a sliding scale will be put into effect if the proposition carries. It was also agreed that the immediate vicinity will be assessed at a higher rate, $2 or $3 cents a foot, and the amount will gradually decrease as the distance from the property increases.

Councilman Conrad Roth announced that it had been informed that the property is to be sold, and that the new owners will tear down the ranchhouse buildings and set his property line back to the uniform street line. Roth said that the protest against the widening of the avenue and the creation of an assessment district to do is meeting with universal opposition, only the man, W. Knobler, who owns adjoining property, being active for the improvement. He cautioned delay in the matter.

Councilman E. B. Bullock stated that it would be manifestly unfair now that the other property owners have given of their property free for street widening plans to agree to demand them to purchase other property that the owner asks for an exorbitant price.

Councilman George Stewart was of the opinion that the matter should be left to the people in the district.

"If they want the street widened, it should be done," he said; "otherwise the matter should be left alone."

P. R. Neville said that the people will stand for heavy assessments, and that the water would have to go to the court. He said that 25 per cent of the people will oppose the purchase of the Dechesne property and the payment of a large sum, with a consequent bur-denome assessment district.

Hartman, who twice has escaped from the local quarantine, returned to the city and surrendered yesterday in the belief that he had been cured. Grable, who had escaped from a

Two physicians, declaring the city government had failed to provide proper medical attention for the men, last night volunteered to treat the lepers gratis in the hope of curing them within three years.

WILDCAT TRAILS ITS DEAD MATE

Follows in Wake of Hunters Who Killed Its Companion.

HAYWARD, Oct. 18.—A wildcat's faithfulness to its dead mate was witnessed by Peter Crestetto, grocer of the firm of Crestetto Brothers, grocermen of Oakland. When out hunting in Redwood canyon Crestetto encountered and shot a particularly ferocious specimen yesterday morning. After he had shot the cat it ran through the bushes at him. In its anxiety the cat disregarded the usual precaution of the species, and presented a good target, its persistence in following them up surprising the hunters.

Along with a companion, A. Forneris of Oakland, Crestetto penetrated into the dense scrub of Redwood canyon, which forms a splendid fastness for wildcats.

The two hunters were after quail and rabbits, and had secured the limit of both when they discovered two wildcats hiding in the brush. Both cats were large, and as they were within range of the shotgun made good targets.

Crestetto fired at the nearest cat, but the shot failed to take effect and the animal, after springing several steps toward him, thought better of making an attack and tried to run off. A second shot brought the cat down.

The mate of the dead wildcat succeeded in evading the bullets, and Crestetto, swinging the body over his shoulder, went off in quest of quail. As he went through the brush he was surprised to see the other wildcat stealing quietly along behind him, stopping at intervals to smell the trail of blood from the wound which had caused the death of its mate.

Crestetto lost sight of the second cat, but it again sprang out of the bushes near him, presenting a good mark for the shotgun. The hunter put down the dead wildcat and took aim, but No. 2 was wary and disappeared in the bushes. Although Crestetto and his companion kept a lookout, the mate of the dead cat did not reappear, but probably went off to its lair.

Among the new houses in course of construction are a $10,000 home near Castro Valley to be occupied by C. E. K. of San Francisco, $2500 home on A and Soto streets belonging to Harry Thomas, merchant, a $3000 house, the property of John Joseph of Oakland and the $2500 home of Harry Koenig of this city.

Work is now well under way in the building of the new firehouse on Castro street, between B and C streets.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH HOLDS HARVEST DINNER

HAYWARD, Oct. 18.—Over 200 members of Hayward Congregational Church and their friends attended the harvest dinner held Thursday evening in the church parlors. Members of the Brotherhood of North Berkeley Congregational Church and their wives were guests of honor at the affair, coming from Berkeley by motor. Rev. B. Dent Taylor, pastor of the Congregational Church, presided over the gathering, and among those who made speeches was Major Charles Heyer. The program included music, speeches and a sumptuous dinner.

RAISES 'ROUGH HOUSE' AND IS ARRESTED

According to Mrs. Martin Joyce, 1639 Pacific street, her husband, a woman in the employ of the Southern Pacific company entered his home last night and not only laid a revolver on his wife and stepdaughter, but also shoved a chair off a table to the floor, where it was irreparably disabled. As a result Joyce was arrested last night and faced charges of disturbing the peace and battery in Police Judge Samuels' court this morning.

Mrs. Joyce refused to tell what time she was playing on the phonograph, although the judge remarked that this information might show the act of the husband justifiable. Joyce declared that he destroyed the machine because he did not believe it was paid for. He pleaded guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace and sentence was set for October 20. He will be tried on the battery charge Monday morning.

MRS. ROBERT GOELET MAY SEEK DIVORCE

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 18.—If there is to be a divorce between the Robert Goelots there has been no official action taken here as yet. No papers have been filed at the office of the superior court, nor has there been up to the present time any intimation that there is to be any filed in relation to the couple from the summer colony.

On the other hand there has been more or less gossip among members of the summer colony during the season just closed that everything between Mr. and Mrs. Goelot was not as it should be, that there was domestic trouble, and that there was a possibility of a divorce being asked for by Mrs. Goelot.

Mrs. Goelot will not discuss the question of the reported divorce, nor will anyone else in connection with the family.

GIRL KILLED WHEN HER PONY RUNS AWAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Faith Crocker, the only daughter of Frank L. Crocker, a distant relative of the Crocker family in California, and a leading member of the Meadowbrook and Piping Rock Clubs, met death today beneath the heels of her favorite pony, which she had recently ridden to blue ribbon honors in Long Island horse shows. The 8-year-old girl had taken the animal out for its usual morning canter in the meadow and her father sat at a window watching her when she was unseated and fell to the ground with her foot caught in the stirrup. The pony dashed blindly away, dragging her over the field. Its hoofs fractured her skull and killed her instantly.

WOMEN SURRENDER AIGRETTE TO OFFICERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Customs inspectors report that since the new regulations preventing the importation of aigrettes into this country took effect a week ago 13 women arriving from Europe have voluntarily surrendered to the government plumes they had brought with them. The inspectors have not found it necessary to ruthlessly tear feathers from hats, but in most cases the women who gave up their plumes said they were only imitations. In four cases the feathers were returned to their owners. In eight of the cases the feathers had been kept by the government and are still in the public stores.

The Ritual Murder Fable.

Apparently the real purpose of prosecuting a Hebrew named Slobodkin at Kiev, Russia, on a charge of "ritual murder" is to obtain a judicial declaration that blood sacrifice is an article of the Jewish creed. Such a declaration would be immediately employed as a pretext for persecuting the Jews with more extreme barbarity, if that be possible, than has hitherto been displayed in tormenting a hapless and helpless people exposed to the rigors of intolerance, ignorance, superstition and bigotry.

No one ever hears of the so-called ritual murder outside of those benighted countries where the Jews are hated and persecuted as a Christian duty. In the early days of the church the charge of human sacrifice was brought against the Christians by pagan persecutors. It was a pretext invented by the priests of idolatry to stir up the popular heart against the disciples of a new and strange religion. At first Jews and Christians were regarded as sects of the same religious cult, and the charge of blood atonement was laid at the door of both alike. It was as false as to the one as it was to the other.

When Christianity became the state religion of the Roman empire, the charge of ritual murder was dropped as to Christians, but allowed to stand as to the Jews. It has persisted down to this time, although eminent prelates of the Roman church, including several of the Popes, have denounced it as a baseless calumny on an innocent people. But even the thunders of the Vatican have not been able to dispose of an error fostered by ignorance, bigotry and prejudice. A generation ago Austria was convulsed by the story of a ritual murder committed by Jewish fanatics. However, the authority of the Catholic church was so firmly exerted that the ritual murder fable was given no further countenance, save by anti-Semitic agitators who did not scruple to use any weapon however vile and unworthy to stimulate the prejudice of the ignorant and credulous.

In Russia the political authority is using the religious prejudices of a populace steeped in ignorance and intolerant superstition as an instrument for oppressing the Jews. Intelligence and education are directing a religious persecution into political channels. Hence the desire to have it judicially declared that ritual murder is a practice sanctioned by the Jewish religion.

Every student of ancient history will perceive that the legend of human sacrifice had its origin in the bloody rites practiced by the Philistines and other near neighbors of the Jews. Under Roman authority many of the idolaters who worshiped Moloch were included in the government of Judea, and thus the hideous rites abhorred by the Jews and practiced by people with whom the Jews were always at war were credited to the Israelites. As a matter of fact, the prophets of Israel continually called down the wrath of God on the abominations practiced by their neighbors, although it is quite certain that the people of Samaria became very much addicted to the idolatries of the Canaanites, the Philistines and the Tyreans. But the Jews of today are not descended from the Samaritans. They are descended from the tribes who clung to the ancient faith and the Ark of the Covenant and gave their allegiance to the house of David. Human sacrifice was the thing they most abhorred, and which their holy men have always denounced as a bloody sacrifice.

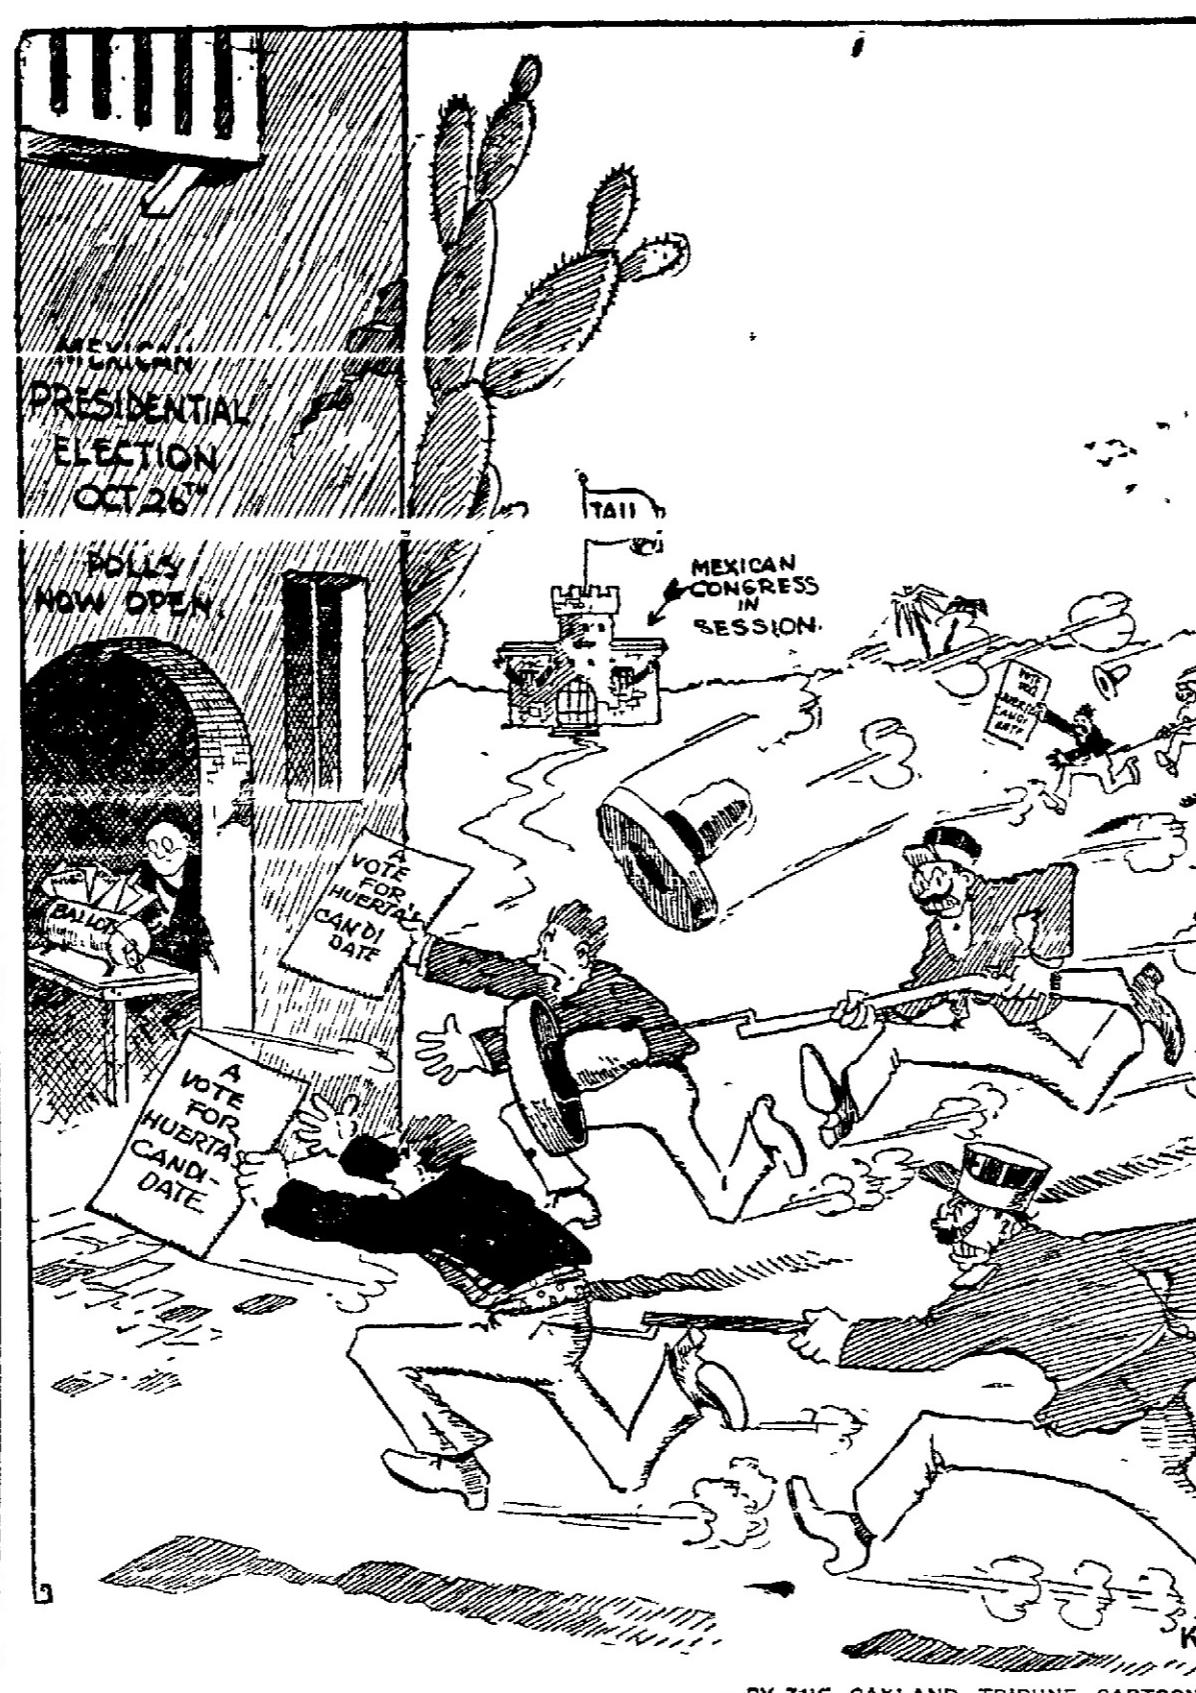

It is, therefore, easy to trace the genesis of a monstrous fable, but it is not so easy to explain its persistence in the face of the teachings of common sense and the lessons of experience. It obtains no credence in enlightened communities. There is no warrant for it in the Jewish scriptures. It is in direct violation of the cardinal tenets of the Jewish faith and is negatived by the whole course of Jewish ecclesiastical history. Even the ignorant rabble have to be inflamed by deception and appeals to religious frenzy to induce them to discredit the evidence of their senses and their personal experience with the Jews.

The law of Moses expressly prohibits human sacrifice, but here in the twentieth century we have a Russian court striving to write into the Jewish ritual a barbarous rite which the prophets and scriptures of the Jewish people unite in denouncing, and which has no better authority than a tradition handed down by fanatical enemies.

It is curious how exaggerations of loss of life in disasters, like the loss of the Volturno for instance, will persist after they are disproved by ascertained fact. For example, one of the ship's passengers was reported as saying that eighty or ninety of the ship's passengers were locked in one of the compartments and were either roasted or drowned. He also said others jumped overboard and were drowned. No doubt he thought he was telling the truth, but he told what he imagined rather than what he knew. The total loss of life has simmered down to 131, more than half of whom were sailors or other employees of the ship. Only about sixty passengers were lost, hence eighty or ninety passengers could not have been locked in a burning compartment. It is incredible that any considerable body of passengers could have been left fastened in a compartment, since the ship was on fire two days before she was abandoned. There was a great deal of screaming and crying among the women and children, but the casualty list proves that the safety of the passengers was not neglected by the officers and crew. As the facts became better known, the stories of brutality and cowardice have less claim to credence. Terrified and excited people, especially if they be ignorant and not conversant with the language spoken by the officers, are apt to take the sharp, short commands usually issued by seamen in time of stress and peril without expressions of cruelty. But on the whole officers and crew seem to have behaved fairly well. The death list proves that the crew did not abandon the passengers to their fate and save the crew at the first opportunity. More heroism than chivalry was displayed. The chivalry of the sea is not dead yet.

The anarchist of the peculiar type called practical jokers, in reality, played footloose with a friend and was given a funeral with a laugh. He tied a handkerchief over his face and com-

ELECTION DAY IN MEXICO!

The Latest Brothel Play.

It is contended that "The Lure" should not be objectionable because it is not salacious. It is objectionable because it is filthy and gives an untruthful picture of life. A sewer performs a necessary office, but the necessity for sanitation is not impressed by making a public show of the processes of decay and the operation of agencies devised to render decay innocuous. It is true that "The Lure" does not make vice attractive. Neither does it make virtue alluring. It corrupts the mind by giving a false and distorted picture of life, and spreads moral infection by inculcating the impression that things are much worse than they really are, and that virtue is such rarity the world has elevated hypocrisy to the pedestal it should occupy. The healthy human mind has no use for morbidity and disease.

Smallpox is a disease to be feared and loathed, but is that a reason why the public should be brought to the bedside of a smallpox patient? It is necessary to apply remedies to smallpox, but is that a reason for showing the interior of a pesthouse and how the malady affects the patients?

No moral lesson is taught by "The Lure," other than acquainting the pure mind with vice, and sullying its purity by teaching that society is thoroughly corrupt. It will not make a boy honest to tell him everybody steals, that society does not punish theft but merely disciplines those who get caught. The lesson of chastity is not taught by telling a girl that unchastity is the usual thing.

Moreover "The Lure" has a revolting scene which the ordinary sense of decency should forbid presenting on the stage. That it might possibly occur in real life is no excuse for portraying it to a mixed audience embracing youth of both sexes in a theater. We do not make the social evil a topic for conversation in our families. Why should that phase of human depravity be put on the stage as something worth seeing? Rubbing a moral stench under a man's nose does not abate the stench nor make the man better. "The Lure" is rubbing a moral stench under the public's nose, and does it in a way to encourage the belief that morality is a humbug and hypocrisy the virtue chiefly prized by society.

The law requires that products be sold under correct labels to prevent fraud and imposition, but some of the experts of the Agricultural Department appear to have lost sight of the object of the law in their craze for technical accuracy. Take the Spitzemberg apple, for example. The Agricultural Department says its true name is Esopus. It might as well be called Erebus or Esculapius for all the name Esopus conveys to the average person. Every person who knows anything about apples is familiar with the Spitzemberg. Offer to sell him a Spitzemberg and he knows precisely what you mean. Ask him to buy an Esopus and you have him guessing whether it is a patent medicine, an automobile or a new can-opener that you have to sell. Calling the apple popularly known as the Spitzemberg by that name deceives nobody, cannot deceive anybody. But how many know what kind of apple an Esopus is? All the average person knows about Esopus is that it is a village on the Hudson in which resides the worst defeated candidate who ever ran for a congressional election the Republican party spun into vulgar reactions.

To down Tammany is a patriotic duty. An honest man was required to compromise with his conscience in standing up for the defense of Suizer.

BEEF EXPORTS STARTLINGLY DECREASE

American Cattle No Longer a Factor in Commerce.

U. S. Bureau Gives Statistics Showing Great Decline.

WASHINGTON Oct. 18.—Exit the in world commerce. This virtually is the declaration of the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, which announced today that such exports had dropped in less than a decade to a startling extent.

In 1904, the bureau's statisticians found, this country sent cattle and beef abroad to the value of more than forty-four millions of dollars during the eight months ending with August. In the corresponding eight months this year, according to officials, such products have gone to the larders of the peoples of other lands.

U. S. DRAWS ELSEWHERE.

An aggravating fact accompanying the falling off in exports the United States has been forced to draw more and more largely on other countries for beef and deer animals, says the bureau. This demand, for food from outside has been met mostly by Mexico, which, in spite of internal troubles, has been able to send approximately 333,000 head of cattle into the United States.

Despite the seeming scarcity of cattle the bureau declares the prices of beef animals have fallen steadily.

The exports are said to acknowledge that the average housewife, after scanning her butcher bill, may question the declaration. They fall back on the old adage, however, that "figures cannot lie."

OAKLAND MAN'S LUCKY FIND

Will Interest Readers of The Tribune.

Those having the misfortune to suffer from backache—urinary disorders, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatic pains, or other kidney and bladder disorders, will read with gratification this encouraging statement by an Oakland man:

Napoleon Marin, shoemaker, 549 San Pablo ave., Oakland, Cal., says: "For a long time I had pains in my back over both kidneys, and the kidney secretions were so frequent in passage that my rest was broken. When I tried to get up from a chair, sharp pains darted through me. At night I was annoyed by having to get up on account of kidney weakness. Felt out of sorts and was discouraged by my failure to find relief until I took Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me from the first, and the fact that I have remained cured is the reason I always recommend them."

LATEST NEWS FROM RICHMOND

LOCAL LABOR IS TO BE EMPLOYED

Richmond Water Commissioners Working On Big Supply Project.

RICHMOND, Oct. 18.—Attorney D. J. Hall, for the Richmond municipal water district, has been instructed by the board of commissioners to prepare an ordinance which will provide that in all contracts which later may be let for the construction of the proposed municipal water system for the district, contractors must show preference for local labor where it is possible to employ it.

Next Thursday the commissioners will journey to Antioch to inspect the route of the proposed pipe line which is to bring the water supply of the municipal system from the Sacramento river, by means of an intake and filtering plant at Collingsville, Solano county. At Antioch the proposed site for a storage reservoir will be inspected, and also sites for pumping stations will be selected.

The committee of preparing the necessary proceedings for the calling of a special bond election and the submitting to the people of the proposition to vote $2,500,000 for the water system will be arranged at a committee meeting of the board to be held within the next 10 days.

MIDWINTER BASEBALL LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED

RICHMOND, Oct. 18.—With a large attendance of fans, managers and baseball players, the Industrial Midwinter Baseball League was organized at a meeting yesterday. A schedule of games for the opening tomorrow at the First-street grounds was also arranged. The pottery workers were anxious to enter a nine, but owing to there being but five teams it was decided to make it a four-club league and to accept the entries of the first four received.

The teams entered are the Standard

Oil Company, Dick Greathouse manager; Winchell, with Adams as manager;

Santa Fe, Ernest O'Brien manager; Richmonds, with Billy Maloney as manager;

Howard French, a popular enthusiast, who was elected president. French is an acceptable head to the organization and with his counsel and experience the league is expected to prove a success.

Charles Anderson of the Santa Fe was named as vice-president, and James Cryan as treasurer. It was decided to play a series of six double-header games and the first to be played at 1 o'clock and the second at 3 o'clock tomorrow, at

The Meddler

THE season starts out in a very promising fashion, with many invitations for large "at homes." Today Mrs. Rodolph is giving a reception for her young daughter, Miss Marian Rodolph, and the reception is one of the largest of the year.

Mrs. Samuel J. Taylor and Miss Margaret Taylor have cards out for a large reception in honor of Mrs. Samuel Johnson Taylor Jr., the attractive young bride who has just joined their happy circle. They will receive their friends in their beautiful new home on Sea View avenue, and the Taylor and Parr families are both so prominent that the list of guests is of course a long one.

Mrs. E. A. Kuegel has invited her friends to an "at home" planned in honor of Mrs. Lewis (Margaret Cameron), and cards will be issued in the near future for "at homes" in honor of the Misses Spring and of Miss Allene Edoff, both events marking the debut of the young girls. One hears of other large receptions to be given in November, so the tea, or "at home," is to take its place among the leading forms of entertainment this season. Of course, a hostess wants everybody to have a good time at her reception, and so it behoves her to have a large receiving party and to choose the members of it with care. Now that San Francisco and Oakland are interchanging courtesies, that the social amenities are being properly considered on both sides of the bay, it is quite possible that even a very well-known woman may find herself "a stranger within the gates." It is that people may be properly entertained that "a receiving party" is planned. The hostess must stand, glued to the spot, while anguish fills her soul at the sight of some neglected guest standing forlornly against the wall. There may be a whole row of women silhouetted against a distant background to whom no one is paying any attention, while in the foreground groups of girls are pleasantly chatting together without a thought for the uncomfortable and forlorn strangers. The situation is very well described by a prominent woman who writes:

"Does the hostess always make sure that those who come to her receptions as strangers will be assured of someone to speak with?

"I myself have been at afternoon teas where I have been welcomed by the hostess at the door of the drawing-room, passed on by her after a word of greeting, with the charge to go out into the dining-room and have something to eat, and have made my way thither, accepted a cup of tea and a sandwich from the hands of a maid, eaten and drank what was given me, stood about for a while, unnoticed and unsaluted, and then taken myself and my farewells back to my hostess, and so out of the front door, without having exchanged a word with anyone except the lady of the house. And this thing has happened to me more than once."

"Luckily for me I am not a bashful person, and such an experience always amuses me intensely. I would not hesitate to speak to another solitary stranger like myself if I felt so inclined. But there are many women who would be deeply hurt and mortified by like neglect, and it ought to be impossible for it to occur. The hostess who does not make arrangements by which some of her intimate friends may look after the comfort of her guests, while she herself is held a prisoner on the receiving line, is a sinner against the laws of hospitality and of good breeding."

"The persons who by constant going into company have acquired an ease of feeling and of manner which makes them at home in any circumstances can have little idea of the agony of embarrassment afflicting many of those who are turned loose in a roomful of strangers after having had only a word with a much-surrounded hostess. Such guests feel that they have been overlooked, slighted, and even insulted."

"There is nothing so beautiful in the world as a "rosebud garden of girls," and they make the most fascinating evening party possible. But there together and it is bound to be a bright and merry one as both are charming in manner and personality.

Mrs. Harry Manville Wright is a popular matron of Berkeley who will be a sponsor at the Claremont Club dances this season, but will be absent for a while owing to the fact that she will leave for the east the first of November to be the guest of her mother, Mrs. John T. Barber, for a short stay. Mrs. Barber will return with her daughter to spend the winter at the Barber home in Washington street.

Miss Esther Webb is one of the members of the younger set who is enjoying the social season on both sides of the bay and is planning to entertain her friends this winter.

* * * MRS. RODOLPH "AT HOME" HOSTESS

One of the important "at homes" of the season is being given this afternoon at the Claremont Country Club, the hostess of the day being Mrs. George Walter Rodolph, who is introducing her bright young daughter, Miss Marion Rodolph.

This is the first of the many receptions planned for the debutantes of the year, and none of the young girls are more popular, or better loved than Marion Rodolph. She is a charming girl, who has been most caded green and lavender, and with a lovely lace over dress, and lavender orchids add a beautiful touch of color to an exceedingly handsome and effective costume.

Miss Marian Rodolph is a charming girl, in a gown of white with a beaded over-effect, her bouquet is of pink roses and lilies of the valley, and she is a true type of a lovely young American girl.

In Mrs. Rodolph's receiving party are:

Mrs. Max Crenn Mrs. Frank E. Mott
Mrs. Frederick Cut Mrs. Alexander Marx
Mrs. Henry Deck Mrs. William H. Morris
Mrs. P. H. Duer Mrs. Frederick Potter
Mrs. Edward F. Mrs. Charlie Rodolph
Mrs. Robert F. Mrs. Harry Smith
general Mrs. M. Stillman
Mrs. Marion Goss Mrs. Sophie Sullivan
Mrs. George Hammer Mrs. Wilson
Mrs. Tyler Henshaw Mrs. Sam Bell
Mrs. Walter Hunt Mrs. Wakefield
Mrs. Marion Kist Mrs. Weston Walden

The young girls who are assisting Mrs. Rodolph and her daughter, Miss Rodolph, are:

Miss Pearl Cawston, Miss Irene Rowlands of Stanford University, Miss Janet Wilshin of Napa, Miss Helen Dabney, Miss Helen Coogan, Miss Phyllis Lovell, Miss Etta Schrock, Miss Alreda Wright, Miss Carmen Gherardelli and Miss Dorothy Capwell.

Mrs. Rodolph is giving a dinner at the Country Club this evening for Miss Rodolph and the young girls assisting her and a number of young

There is a place kept free in the dining rooms of all the large hotels,—and when the music strikes up, people leave the tables, join in the dance, and return later to finish their repasts. Edward Greenway has always been the arbiter of fashion on this coast, a social leader whose prestige is so well established, that his word is law. So he brings us the latest cry from the East in regard to dancing, and he has been amazed at the craze exhibited in even the most ex-

CLOTHING OF THE TEA ROOMS. It tells us that "New York has gone dancing mad. The very best people are joining in the dance, and are taking lessons in the new steps from the famous Maurice, who has come over from Paris."

Mr. Greenway adds:

"I went to the Hotel Knickerbocker and when the music struck up the people left the tables where they were eating and all joined in the dance. The hotel had provided the space, and all the other hotels were doing the same."

So the request to our genial manager of the Hotel Oakland, that the same thing might take place here, was not so absurd as it seemed. Perhaps, however, we are not ready to go as far as New York,—we might be content for a while with the laurels that Oakland is, in the truest sense, her home, from the affectionate tributes of praise and living words of welcome which greeted her at the luncheon on Wednesday.

Mrs. Cora Jones, past-president of the Oakland Club made a characteristic speech of welcome—very charming in the delightful imagery of the address. One of the speakers was Miss Mollie Connors, who spoke of the fine work of the Oakland Club in the past, in establishing playgrounds, and in leading the way in other great civic movements. She pointed out the work there was still to do by the Oakland women, in acquiring public utilities, especially in acquiring the earliest possible moment the present water system.

Mrs. Ettinger, the president of the Tuesday Club of Sacramento, was among the guests at the Round Table, and she made a charming address, describing the way in which the club house of the Tuesday Club in Sacramento was built.

Mrs. Gilligly, president of the Alhambra Club of Alameda brought greetings from her club, and the musical program of the afternoon was of an unusual degree of excellence.

Mrs. Alexander gave a bright talk comparing the Oakland Club to a human clock, carrying out the metaphors in a bright and unique fashion.

The table was a most artistic study

Among the guests were Mrs. Joseph

Mrs. A. L. Frick, Mrs. Cora E. Jones,

PRESS ASSOCIATION HONORS CHURCHILL.

The Pacific Coast Women's Press Association gave one of the most important receptions of the week, entertaining several hundred guests in honor of Mr. Winston Churchill.

Mrs. I. Lowenberg is the able and popular president of the Press Club, and she has done much to make the work of the club so much worth while, that the receptions have now become among the most important of the social and literary affairs across the bay.

The hall was most attractive in lovely decorations of yellow, and Mrs.

Lowenberg presented the many guests of the afternoon to her guest of honor, Mr. Winston Churchill. He is an exceedingly fine looking man, much younger than one would expect to find the author of so very thought ful a book as "The Inside of the Cup."

He has the most delightful manners in the world, and was very frankly glad to see people, and rejoiced greatly that they liked his book.

Among the many guests from our side of the bay were Mrs. A. C. Posey,

Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith, Mrs.

Kate A. Bulkley, Mrs. John F. Connors, Mrs. Wallace Pond, and Miss Mollie Connors.

Mr. Churchill is to be entertained by the Ebell Club in the near future.

DAUGHTER BRIGHTENS COOGAN HOME.

Congratulations are pouring in upon the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Donovan, (May Coogan), because of the arrival yesterday of a dear little daughter in the home. One wishes for the little maid that she may always have as much love and affection in her life as has been the lot of her popular and attractive mother.

The little girl has many relatives to welcome her, and her coming has brought much joy to a large family circle.

A WORD OR TWO FROM PARIS.

Writing from Paris, a clever woman sends a suggestion that might well be extensively followed by equally clever women over here:

"The new hats are of medium size, of velvet and silk and trimmed with tulle, espree, and paradise. I know a Spanish lady—a very beautiful and charming woman—who has her milliner make for her half a dozen clusters of feathers which her maid rearranges daily on one little velvet hat. One day you will see her with a gorgeous cockade of paradise, the next with a queer-looking plume which on analysis resolves itself into small tassels of ostrich feathers—and so on through the week. She must pay a small fortune for her feathers, but I dare say she hugs them to her mis, after the fashion peculiar to women from all time."

* * * MRS. ARTHUR C. NAHL GIVES DINNER.

Mrs. Arthur C. Nahl was the hostess at a pretty dinner at the Hotel Oakland on Brazilian ball night. The decorations at the dinner were American beauty roses. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glass, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar O. Peixotto, Herbert Schmidt, Philip Manson and George Davis.

* * * ENTERTAIN FRIENDS AT BERKELEY HOME.

One of the most interesting events of the week was given last evening at Berkeley, when Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gleason Freeman entertained a large number of friends at "Alienoke," their Berkeley home.

They planned for their friends a most delightful "Evening in France with Miss Lila Van Kirk."

Miss Van Kirk spent many months in Florence, and she knows how to present her subject in the most fascinating manner. Her lectures are illustrated, which makes them all the more interesting. Miss Van Kirk lectured for Mrs. William Griffith Hershaw here, and her lectures at Santa Barbara were extremely popular. A large number of guests enjoyed Mrs. Freeman's hospitality, and the evening at "Alienoke" was so enjoyable that it brought much pleasure to many friends.

The Child Welfare League is to give an important luncheon at the Ebell Club on next Monday, in honor of the president of the league, Dr. Susan Fenton, who has recently returned from a trip abroad. It promises to be a most interesting luncheon, since the program is so well planned.

Among the speakers will be the Rev. Albert Palmer, whose impressions of his trip abroad will be well worth hearing. Other interesting speakers will contribute to the enjoyment of the after luncheon program, and the affair will be one of the important dates of the coming week.

* * * MCNEAR-HUTCHINS WEDDING OCTOBER 15.

Instead of the tenth of October, as originally planned, Miss Elizabeth McNear has set the date of her marriage to Mr. Hutchins for the fifteenth, and it therefore took place last Wednesday in London, at the home of the Edgar Rickards. The wedding guests were mainly relatives of the bride and groom, the sister of the latter having crossed the Atlantic for the event. She will remain several weeks in the British Isles, and then return to her home in the East.

Mr. Hutchins formerly lived in California, and he is a graduate of our State University. He is the son of Dr. Hutchins, a well known surgeon of the late civil war. He comes also of a very prominent family of Ireland.

The bride, Mrs. Hutchins, who was Elizabeth McNear, has many prominent relatives here, among whom are Mrs. P. E. Bowles, George McNear Jr., John, Fred, and Seward McNear.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins have gone on a wedding tour of Southern Europe, and on their return they will go to St. Petersburg, where their home will be for some years to come.

A WEDDING of interest to take place tomorrow is that of Miss Elinor Hook and Roger Whitman, in the Plymouth Congregational church, Rev. Albert Palmer

WASHING TON,
Oct. 18.—Women of many tongues are to be included in an international suffrage
club, to be organized here within the immediate future. Plans for the new organization were laid today and it is to be patterned after similar clubs now successfully founded in London, Paris, Berlin and other important capitals of the world. Men who are favorably disposed toward assisting their sisters to capture the right of franchise may be admitted to membership.

The success of the venture, its promoters declare, is assured, for there is a considerable element here in the diplomatic service who are zealous of universal suffrage. These women are being invited to join and the responses are said to be encouraging.

Leaders in the national woman suffrage headquarters are preparing for the arrival here next month of the European and New World delegations of suffragists, who will sweep down on their senators and representatives in Congress in the cause of suffrage.

MILITANTS UPHELD

CHICAGO, Oct.
18.—Mrs. Alice Park,
the California suffragist, and American delegate to the International Suffrage
Congress, held at Budapest last June, is in Chicago on her way home from the congress.

Mrs. Park took part in the suffrage pilgrimage last July in England, which drew its pilgrims from all over England, ending in Hyde Park, London.

"My sympathies are with the militants," she said. "I wore a militant badge all through Europe. This is the time to wear a badge. In England, they are fighting for the suffragettes to do in order to outrage men. People here who don't read the papers can have no idea of the situation over there. We in America don't have to resort to such startling methods to make our point."

The most striking features at the British congress were Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, our great American feminist, who spoke as many times as she could get her to, and a delegation of five peasant women who walked to the congress from their little villages many miles away because they insisted on representation and were too poor to take the expense of a railcar trip. They sat at the sessions dressed in their plain peasant clothes and wearing shawls on their heads. They attracted much attention."

STAGE BEAUTY CAPTURED BY HIGH OFFICIAL

PARIS, Oct. 18.—That the heart of fair Rita Jolivet, reigning beauty of the stage, had been captured by an official high up in government circles was the rumor that gained excited currency yesterday. Gossip dared not even breathe the successful one's name and Miss Jolivet was silent and smiling. "Perhaps," she said, "we'll know more when I return." She is about to embark on a theatrical venture in London and America.

RECEPTION FOR BRIDE.
The reception given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Joseph, Mrs. Travis and Mrs. MacDonald in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer S. Church was a most delightful affair. About two hundred guests called during the appointed hours at the residence in East Eighteenth street, which was artistically decorated in pink and green. Many beautiful gowns were in evidence and a group of charming young girls, including Miss Alda Lyon, Miss Ruth Colyer and Miss Gertrude Edwards, added to the beauty of the scene. Those in the receiving line were Mrs. Julius Joseph, Mrs. Elmer Z. Church, Mrs. Church, Mrs. J. E. Jarvis, Mrs. Mercy M. Edwards, Mrs. J. D. Edwards, Mrs. T. J. Lynch and Mrs. Duncan A. MacDonnell.

WEDDING DATE SET.

Mrs. H. S. Knapp will be hostess the afternoon of November 6, at her home, for an afternoon of bridge, which is to be for the benefit of St. Anthony's church. ANNIVERSARY DINNER.

One of the most attractive parties Thursday evening at the Brazilian ball was that of Mr. and Mrs. Rollo Jerome Hough in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Thomson, whose wedding anniversary came on that date. Among the other guests at dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Wedgewood, Ross Thomson, Miss Charlotte Bell, Paul Orren, Miss Gladys Smith, Grover Peterson and Miss Madeline Thompson.

HOSTESS AT BRIDGE-TEA.
Mrs. Albert J. Wilson entertained at her home yesterday afternoon more than sixty guests sharing the hostess's hospitality. The reception rooms of the Wilson residence in East Oakland were banked with autumn blooms and greenery. Bridge was the diversion of the affair and later a chat over the tea cups was enjoyed by those present.

TO LEAVE FOR HOME SOON.
Mr. and Mrs. Nat Wilshire are to leave for their home in Solana Beach within the next few days. They have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willard F. ENTERTAINS FOR BRIDGE.
At a pretty affair at her home in Webster street last evening, Miss Mae Doyle entertained in honor of Mrs. L. Krueckberg, whose wedding was an event of a few days ago (Miss Hazel Norman). The evening was devoted to cards, after which a buffet supper was served and music and dancing were added diversions to the evening. Francis Inch Commended for Work in Saving Passengers; 'Line Needs Him,' Says Manager

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The arrival today of eleven women saved from the burning Volturno by the freighter Rappahannock was the signal for the wildest scene of joy and thanksgiving witnessed here since the rescuing fleet began to bring in their cargoes of survivors.

The women were transferred at Halifax from the Rappahannock to the liner Florizel, which docked in Brooklyn. Ten of them were young girls. The eleventh was Mrs. Peia Polack and there was an affecting scene at the dock as she met her three children whom she had given up for lost.

Mrs. Polack was the last woman to leave the Volturno. She was lowered into one of the Rappahannock's boats, believing that her children already were there. When the boat put off and she found that the little ones were left behind she became hysterical and the boat's crew with difficulty kept her from jumping overboard. She remained in a hysterical condition during all the journey to New York. Here she learned that the children had been saved by one of the boats from the Kroonland. They met her at the dock with their father, an East Side merchant.

The ten girls were taken care of by the Jewish Immigrant Society.

HERO CAPTAIN RETAINED.

The unwritten, but almost inexorable, law of the seas, which bars a captain who loses his ship from being given another command, will not be denied, said Captain Francis Inch of the Volturno.

Counselor Mrs. Merriam, however, discovered some new points which she believed would be important to her side of the case, and formally appealed to the court for permission to present them. Mrs. Merriam was accused by her husband of improper conduct at Jackson Barracks, Louisiana, and Colonel Murphy, a prominent citizen of New Orleans, was named as co-respondent in the suit which caused much gossip in army circles everywhere.

SAFETY LINE.

The officials of the Uranium line made it known today that the heroism of the young skipper—his desperate, life-saving fight to save his vessel and the brave part he played in the battle which resulted in the saving of such a large proportion of the Volturno's passengers and crew—will preserve him from the fate of many a master whose ship the sea has claimed.

"The line needs men like Inch," said Manager E. O. Thomas today.

"He will be given another command."

No word has been heard of H. L. Lang, assistant purser, and it is believed he met a heroic death while saving the lives of the passengers.

Counsel for Woman Believes

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The expected decision in the sensational divorce action of Captain Henry C. Merriam against Mrs. Bessie C. Merriam will be granted by Superior Judge Graham to-day or permission to Attorney J. C. Meekins, representing the wife of the additional points and authorities. Several weeks ago the evidence was submitted to the court for his consideration and a decree to either the plaintiff or defendant was daily expected.

Counselor Mrs. Merriam, however, discovered some new points which they believed would be important to her side of the case, and formally appealed to the court for permission to present them. Mrs. Merriam was accused by her husband of improper conduct at Jackson Barracks, Louisiana, and Colonel Murphy, a prominent citizen of New Orleans, was named as co-respondent in the suit which caused much gossip in army circles everywhere.

SAFETY LINE.

RICHMOND, Oct. 18.—Following repeated denials of the charge that he killed Rosa Domingo, and steadfast refusal to do so, Khan yesterday was taken over the scene of the crime, shown the dead girl's body and finally, after a talk with his countrymen, Musa Khan, broke down and confessed. To District Attorney A. B. Mackenzie and Sheriff R. R. Veasey, the man told the sordid details of the crime, only uncovered when the girl's body was found, bound with chains, in the bay two boys.

Throughout the ordeal of seeing the girl's body, the scene of the crime, and going through the grilling "third degree" of the police, the Hindu, who was the subject of the case, was tormented and smoked cigarettes. In the cabin where the murder was committed, the aged father of the dead girl, Francis, with grief, attempted to kill the Hindu. Even this did not disconcert him. Late last evening, after a talk with Mrs. Domingo, he changed his front and gave full details of the murder.

HE ALONE GUILTY.

He, and he alone, he declared to the officers, was guilty. On his story Charles Klein, held as a suspect, was released and Musa Khan, his countryman and housemate, probably will be some time this evening. The man is now held at the county jail at Martinez.

"Rosa came to me on the night of Tuesday, September 20, declared the Hindu. I took her to my house and at the time intending to kill her. I had the weights and chains ready.

"We quarreled over money. Then she went to sleep, and when she began to breathe regularly I took a long handkerchief and strangled her with it. She did not have time to cry out. Then I burned all her clothes.

"All day Wednesday the body lay in the kitchen. I did not go into the kitchen, for I told him not to. Wednesday night I dragged her down to the pierhead, put on the chains and dropped her over. No one helped me.

SAYS SHE FOOLDED HIM.

"I killed her because she fooled me. She always wanted money, and I gave her much."

Said Ali was shown the letter, intercepted at the Stege postoffice, from Musa Khan. It admitted to having sent it. He expressed no sorrow for his act, declaring that he was willing and ready to meet his God. He declared that he is 27 years of age and has a wife and mother living in India.

When the Hindu arrived in Richmond he was met by Sergeant Rule of the police and Sheriff Veale, who responded to the confession. It is alleged that Ali knew nothing of the crime, and definitely faced the ordeal prepared for him. Taken to the prison, he was shown the girl's body. "She was not mine," he said. "I do not know that this is Rosa Domingo."

While in the hotel where he and Musa Khan lived and where the murder was committed, Manuel Domingo, the father of the murdered girl, rushed in. The grief-stricken old man leaned toward the Hindu, cursing him and threatening him with death.

"The curse of God upon you, you heathen murderer," shrieked the aged man. "I will avenge my daughter's death." He was seized by the policemen and hurried away. "Let me at him," he shouted. "His life belongs to me!"

MAKES A CONFESSION.

The old man's wrath unloosed the Hindu, said the officers, despite his nonchalant air. A short time later he was confronted with Musa Khan, held as a suspected accomplice. After a talk with his countrymen, he made his confession.

"Musa Khan knew nothing of this," he declared. "I alone killed the girl and I alone put her body into the bay. I was hard work for her to be heavy. I could only move about fifteen feet at a time without stopping."

Charles Reilly, the teamster and former friend of the girl, was released immediately on the decision of the police that he was not connected with the affair.

Said Ali's confession absolutely cleared him. The Hindu, in fact, regarded him as his enemy and rival, and under no circumstances, he made his confession.

Under questioning, the Hindu told the particulars of disrobing the girl, dead body, removing the clothes in the kitchen stove and of securing the chains and weights.

"I worked for two days afterward," he said, "and then became frightened and went away. I took a Santa Fe train to Fresno, then to Oxnard, then Yuma, Ariz., and finally to Calexico."

The man told a long story of wandering about the earth. For two years, he said he was on the police force in Hong Kong, China. He will undergo examination next week.

Convict Acquitted Of Murder Charge

SAN JOSE, Oct. 18.—After deliberating nineteen hours, the jury in the case of Henry Lafrenz, tried for the murder of Almaz Wathers, a rancher near Mount Hamilton, August 7, 1910, at 11 o'clock today returned a verdict of not guilty.

Lafrenz, who is the son of a San Francisco saloonkeeper, is now serving a term of seven years at San Quentin for robbery.

Under questioning, the Hindu told the particulars of disrobing the girl, dead body, removing the clothes in the kitchen stove and of securing the chains and weights.

"I worked for two days afterward," he said, "and then became frightened and went away. I took a Santa Fe train to Fresno, then to Oxnard, then Yuma, Ariz., and finally to Calexico."

RUESS REPLIES TO RECENT CHARGES

Says Statement That He Removed Miss Haynes for Ross Is Untrue.

Probation Officer Christopher Ruess today gave out the following statement in answer to various newspaper items concerning his relation to various recent changes in the personnel of the Detention Home and the Probation Office:

"The statement that I removed Miss Bessie Haynes to make room for Mrs. J. Ross, a personal friend of mine, as assistant matron at the Detention Home, is utterly and wholly untrue. The Probation Committee of Alameda county has been appointed, from among our first citizens by Judge Oden and his predecessors on the Juvenile Court. This committee is amply able to manage the Detention Home, and is by law empowered to do so. It is an uncalled for reflection upon the intelligence and independence of the members of the committee to commit what it shall do."

THOSE ON COMMITTEE.

"The committee is composed of J. B. Richardson, chairman; Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain, secretary; R. A. Leet, J. D. McCarthy, Herbert D. Clark, Dr. Sarah L. Shuey and Mrs. A. S. Lavenson. This committee, and not I, is running the Detention Home. Under the law, this committee has the power to remove any employee of the Detention Home, much more to do with a matron. This committee is entirely unpaid, and, to the best of my knowledge, is in large measure due to the hard working and untiring work generally of this county throughout the name of the committee."

"I do not even know Mrs. Ross, whom I am alleged to have removed. Miss Haynes to make room for. I was introduced to her the day she appeared before the Probation Committee while she was in the probation office waiting her turn among the applicants. At the time that Miss Haynes' resignation was asked for by the committee, solely on account of her deafness, I do not believe that anyone on the committee had ever heard of Mrs. Ross, and certainly I had not. I believe that the committee chose Mrs. Ross simply and solely because she was the best fitted of the applicants."

ANSWER CHARGES.

"As to having sought to have Wood, who has been a member of the Superior Court, appointed to take Wright's place in July in the Superior Court felony probation work rather than Compton, who was appointed, this is another utter untruth. The committee was in a quandary which of the two to nominate, and asked my recommendation. I recommended in favor of Compton as best fitted for the work to me, just as I should have recommended Wood as best fitted for work with us. Both men are truly lucky finds for Alameda county and worth much more than what they are paid."

"It will be a sad day for the children and the probation work when these departments are in politics, and these salaries are paid by the taxpayers to make jobs for anybody's friends."

For the best criticism of the wording and construction of any classified advertisement appearing this week in our PROPERTY TO EXCHANGE column we will pay $3.00, next best $2.00, next $1.00. Select one particular advertisement, then make your criticism.

EXAMPLE.

This is a fair sample of the many poor advertisements to be found in all newspapers—space-savers that say so little that they seldom bring answers:

"FOR RENT—6 room cottage, rent $25.00. Inquire 3264 Webster st."

How much stronger this advertisement would be if it stated whether the cottage was modern; said something of its interior arrangements; told how far it was from San Francisco, trains, street cars and schools, and gave some idea of the class of neighborhood surrounding it, etc.

You have to say something in your advertising even if it is only a little classified advertisement—it you want to get results.

If you find a particularly good advertisement, tell why it is good—it will cost just as much as an average criticism.

RULES.

No criticism to be more than 75 words. Write on one side of paper only. Copy of advertisement criticised must be pasted on criticism.

ADDRESS.

All criticisms to Classified Advertising Critic, OAKLAND TRIBUNE, Oakland, California, not later than Monday evenings at 6 p.m.

Next week's publications of the heading RELIABLE FIRMS in Sunday's paper only, will be criticized.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Firmer cables created a better investment demand for wheat today; that was attributable to the bulk sales. The market opened 1/4% higher and later made some additional advance.

A rapid descent took place subsequently because of the fall of demand. The close was at 14 1/4 to 14 3/4 net decline.

Price on the upturn.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Andrew Carnegie, looking old and not too well, arrived yesterday on the Mauretania. "Do you still take your thimbleful of Scotch whisky every day?" the laird was asked.

"Of course I do," he replied emphatically, "but I want you to understand that I am strictly temperate."

"The doctor and I have been ordered to take it, a glass of extra fine Scotch whisky with our meals. It is the doctor's order and it does not come under the head of drinking."

Gives Fortune to Make Good His Fire Losses

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 18.—After handling $200,000 worth of business a year for 32 years, Reed B. Freedman, head of the Binghamton Clothing Company, whose factory 30 girls were burned to death July 22 last, will begin life anew in New York tomorrow in a commission firm. "I have kept nothing," he said last night. "Every church within 100 miles of Binghamton has benefited from my profits and every charitable institution within the district. The losses of the fire above insurance were heavy, but I have paid every creditor a dollar for losses. I was right and I feel easy in my mind as I begin anew. If I had all my money back I would give it to restore life to the girls burned in the fire."

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould with their daughters, Edith and Gloria, arrived yesterday on the Mauretania from their country place at Perth, England, where the Misses Gould have been learning to shoot and ride.

"Do you think the Panama canal will be finished in time?" they were asked.

Can't Help But Admire Babies

Every Woman Casts Loving Glance at the Nestling Cuddled in Its Bonnet.

A woman's heart responds to the sweet-ness of a pretty child, more so to-day than ever before since the advent of Mother's Friend.

This is a wonderful external help to the muscles and tendons. It penetrates the tissues, makes them readily yield to man's demand for expansion, there is no period of pain, discomfort, staining, nausea or other symptoms often distressing during the anxious weeks of expectancy.

Mother's Friend thoroughly lubricates every nerve, tendon and muscle involved and is a sure preventive for caking of the breast.

And particularly to young mothers this famous remedy of inestimable value. It enables them to preserve their health and strength, and they remain pretty by having avoided all the suffering and danger that would otherwise accompany such an occasion.

You will find this splendid remedy on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle.

Order from Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Atlanta, Ga., for their instructive book for expectant mothers.

PRESBYTERIANS AT SANTA ROSA SYNOD

Delegates Continue to Report at Headquarters for Interesting Session.

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 18.—Arrival of delegates, both clerical and lay, continues for the sessions of the Presbyterian Synod, which is being held here. Interest in the proceedings is constantly on the increase. The sessions this year are probably the best ever held by the synod, and the attendance is larger than usual. The full strength of the body of the synod is present at the sessions. Among the members are two full-blooded Indians, both elders in the church. One is Robert Wells of Bishop, Cal., and the other is Jack the matter of placing the San Anselmo Theological Seminary in the hands of the general assembly of the church instead of the synod, was placed in the hands of a committee headed by Rev. J. W. Dinsmore. The synod work at the State University was reported, and among other things a lot adjoining the university campus has been secured at a cost of $20,000. On this a hall will be constructed for social and religious work among the students. At the university almost seven hundred students are enrolled who are members of the Presbyterian church. The report of the San Francisco Organized stated that the work there was in excellent condition. A plot worth $15,000 had been constructed with only $800 indebtedness.

The California Synodical Society of Foreign Missions, presided over by the president, Mrs. R. W. Cleland of Los Angeles, held an important session at the South Methodist church today. An election of new officers resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. R. W. Cleland, Los Angeles; vice-presidents, Mrs. J. H. Gates of Pasadena, Mrs. W. B. Gantz of Los Angeles, Mrs. H. K. Gregory of San Francisco; secretary literary, Mrs. John Balconshaw of Alameda; secretary baby bands, Mrs. H. H. Gibben of Oakland; corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. F. Laverty of Los Angeles; recording secretary, Mrs. A. P. McKee of Los Angeles; secretary mission study, Miss C. L. Morton of San Francisco; treasurer contingent fund, Mrs. J. B. Ford of San Diego; secretary Young People, Mrs. George Bradbeer of Los Angeles; assistant secretary Young People, Mrs. Jenny Kennaway of Los Angeles; Westminster Guild, Miss Isabelle Laughlin; Over Sea and Land, Miss Grace Nichols. Today was a busy day for the delegates, and the synod will come to a close tomorrow evening. Among the principal addresses will be one by "The Civil Sabbath," by Rev. G. L. Tufts, Pres. D. "Safeguard Civilization," by Rev. J. E. Davies, against the Moral Perils of the Community; Rev. J. E. Squires, superintendent International Reform Bureau; "Temperance," Rev. Guy W. Wadeworth, D. D., representing the General Assembly's board, and Rev. A. C. Bane, D. D., of the Anti-Saloon League. During the afternoon an excursion will be held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The reports of the historian of the synod and those of the committees on the publication of the history will be made.

AUTOS MUST SLOW DOWN AT PLAYGROUNDS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 18.—Speed of automobiles within 200 feet of public schools will be reduced to eight miles an hour, according to a decision reached by the city council. The school board will also be permitted to close to automobile traffic streets surrounding schools entirely during school hours. These innovations will be instituted for the purpose of protecting school children.

Many accidents have been caused recently by automobiles running past school buildings at high speed. The playgrounds of the two schools named "Pape's Diapepsin" Ends All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes; Time It!

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach it feels like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes.

"Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation to the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach malady.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

GUILTY OF MURDER OF CHERRY DE ST. MAURICE

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18.—Sam Raber, who, with Jack Drumgoole, a wrestler, and Cleo Sterling, was indicted for the murder, last July, of Cherry de St. Maurice, Sacramento's "tenderloin queen," was found guilty yesterday of murder in the first degree. The jury was out 35 minutes and made no recommendation for mercy. The verdict carries a death sentence.

Raber, three weeks ago, offered to plead guilty and take a life sentence, but District Attorney Wachhorst refused to consent. Raber took the stand in his own defense yesterday and related how he and Drumgoole entered Cherry de St. Maurice's room and choked the woman to death. Drumgoole, Raber said, did the actual killing.

Drumgoole's trial will follow immediately.

REGISTERING FOR NEW YORK ELECTION

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The registration of voters is indicating unusual interest in the approaching municipal election. The registration will not be complete until tonight, but for the first three days such an increase has been shown that all of the political parties profess to be pleased.

It is officially reported that nearly every district has turned out a better registration than in the last municipal campaign in 1898 and in several instances the turnout has exceeded that of the presidential election last year. The outlying boroughs, particularly that of the Bronx, which has recently become a county by itself, are making particularly good showings.

MURPHY READY TO QUIT, IS REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Charles F. Murphy will abdicate as leader of Tammany Hall as soon as election is over, according to a report from high authority, and the report caused more gossip in Democratic circles yesterday than anything else that has been heard in many months. It is said that the veteran leader of the Tammany organization is ready to step aside as soon as the election is over to do due to recent attacks.

MURCH BOARD REPORT REBUKES DR. GOODSPED

Officers Issue Statement in Which Their Position Is Defined

Church Officers Charge

That Dr. Goodspeed was forced to resign; that they were "afraid to have him in the pulpit."

That the pastor said "They will have a fine time getting me out of the church."

That Dr. Goodspeed showed "inability to see things in a normal way, and regarded disagreement with his views as personal."

That his "outbreaks of passion" show a "lack of self control." That the church officers had been frequent.

Following the morning session, the church officers issued a lengthy statement, setting forth their position in the dispute and bringing charges against the pastor, admitting that they forced a resignation from him, the statement declares, "the fact is, that after a certain exhibition on his part and considering the fibbered that had been thrown into the congregation, we were afraid to have him appear in the pulpit."

OTHER ALLEGATION.

"In connection with this supplemental resignation," the pastor said, "they will have a fine time in getting my out of the church until I am ready to go. I am chairman of the executive committee and moderator of the Presbytery, and the Presbytery has it for the First Presbyterian church. He finally agreed to leave at once, but demanded four months' salary, amounting to $1650."

Recapitulating the charges, the church officers' statement is, in part, as follows:

"One difficulty with our pastor is his inability to see things in a normal way, and his tendency to regard any disagreement to his own views as a personal insult. More than this, his spreading of rumors of graft among officers of the church have shown a lamentable indifference to the reputation of men high in the church. His refusal to participate in ground-breaking exercises disclosed a singular want of consecrated leadership, a mutual promise of silence between the officers and himself was kept by them and not by him. His outbreak of passion of today on his final resignation showed a lack of self-control and moderation, unfiting him for leadership in spiritual things."

The charges recite a long list of disputes between the pastor and church officers, being principally history of the old building dispute.

FURTHER CHARGES.

The charges recite that when he presented his first resignation he did so with an effort to injure the officers. "His remarks," say the charges, "were most incendiary. He said that he was not the issue. That the issue was truth, decency and honor. That conditions were intolerable, and that he would not remain unless things were changed. All this was gross violation of his pledge to us to avoid discussion and during protracted attacks, as well as this, your elders preserved a dignified silence."

The charges in written form were distributed among members of the Presbytery at the afternoon session.

Presenting resignations from Rev.

Frank L. Goodspeed, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and all the church officers who were opposed to him, these included H. H. Gribben, Dr. E. G. Brinkerhoff, and all the church elders, Rev. L. A. McAfee, chairman of the conciliation committee, appointed to decide in the case of the church dispute, this morning urged before the Oakland Presbytery that new a pastor and officers be chosen and a whole new church administration be installed.

"This," said McAfee, "is the only method in the estimation of the committee, by which peace and harmony may be restored."

Roscoe Jones, representing the majority of the congregation, strenuously opposed acceptance of the pastor's resignation. "The Presbytery has already once refused to act on this," said Jones, "and furthermore the congregation by a vote of over 3 to 1 has requested that the pastor be retained. I appear again to voice this instance. The congregation is satisfied with its pastor. The only people not satisfied are the church officers with whom he has had disputes. It is not with the minority faction that the Presbytery refuse to act on this resignation. We, the congregation, can handle our own business and run our own church."

STARTED OVER BUILDING.

"The first place, the whole dispute the officers and the pastor started over the church building. The church has now been built and that issue is dead. There is no reason for any Christian body of men to hold to that unforgiving attitude which has been manifested."

McAfee reported that Jones was working on one side of the case, whereas the committee had examined all the issues at stake and had considered all matters tending to the church's benefit.

The session, which was held in the morning, was adjourned.

TO REORGANIZE CITY SALARY-PAYING SYSTEM

Reorganization of the system of paying salary warrants and of handling the city payroll in general was the subject of the conference of delegates from the various departments held in the civil service chamber last night at the City Hall.

A committee of four was appointed to study the situation, examine the present system and the substitute suggested by the Klink-Bean company, expert accountants, with a view to adapting the new system to the needs of the city.

The present system is said to be excessively cumbersome and extravagant.

It will be greatly simplified. The committee appointed is as follows: City Treasurer Edwin Meese, Deputy City Auditor Earl Wade, City Price Expert L. G. Jordan and William Sampson, representing the Klink-Bean company.

The session, which was held in the morning, was adjourned.

Missing Youth Is Found Richard Flint Arrested

RICHARD FLINT, BERKELEY YOUTH WHO IS CENTER OF MYSTERY THAT IS BEING UNRAVELED BY POLICE.

He Felt Dizzy and Wandered Away From Home and Mother.

said her son has never made a study of any religious sect's teachings.

Mrs. Flint declared that the story of poison being found in her pantry is untrue. She blames hot weather following over-strain and illness for her son's condition.

There was a touching meeting in the police office when Mrs. and Miss Flint arrived.

SISTER HEARS NEWS.

BERKELEY, Oct. 22.—Miss Margaret Flint, sister of Richard Flint, who disappeared mysteriously from his home at 1251 Euclid avenue, received a telephone message this morning from San Jose from her mother to the effect that she would return to Berkeley this afternoon and expected to bring her son with her. Flint was picked up by the police at San Jose today.

Mrs. Flint told her daughter that the son was well, but gave no further explanation of his mysterious and sudden departure.

It is supposed by the police here that Flint, having decided to go away, scattered the arsenic that was found from end to end of the house with the intention of leading the family to believe he had made away with himself. A portion of the substance found in the house was analyzed by City Chemist Schmidt and found really to be arsenic. The police have dropped the case.

CALLS ON GIRL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Richard Flint called on Miss Gertrude Butterworth of 246 Sixth avenue on Sunday night and the girl's father told of having seen and spoken to him. He said:

"Flint was seated at the table talking to my daughter when I entered the room. He complained of having had dizzy spells and acted rather strangely. He was not of a responsive nature, and although our family had been intimate with the Flints for more than two years, I never really came to understand him thoroughly."

"He left our house in plenty of time to catch the 12:20 boat, and before leaving arranged to take my daughter to the opera the following Tuesday night. He is not engaged to my daughter, and there was no understanding between them."

"Young Flint has a very bright brain and is an omnivorous reader. After taking a special course at an agricultural college in Oregon, he spent some time in his father's ranch near Monterey, and then came to Berkeley, taking a course in a business college. He completed this course, which usually takes one year, in four months."

"I think the strain of hard study had an effect on his mind, and it is very possible that this effect grew more pronounced in periods of depression."

Basing my theory on the published account of the story, I believe he sprinkled the arsenic during one of these spells, and when he found what he had done, he took his life."

Detective Jameson said last night that there had been some trouble in the Flint family recently over religious matters, his mother objecting to his studying spiritualism.

This was borne out by Butterworth, who said that young Flint had given his daughter a book on the subject and had cautioned her not to tell her mother about it.

CORNERSTONE OF TEMPLE REMOVED

Opened Crypt Yields Old Relics of More Than 25 Years Ago.

On Tuesday afternoon, during the removal of the cornerstone of the Temple of First Hebrew Congregation, from the old edifice to the site of the new structure, the crypt was opened and the monuments deposited over twenty-five years ago, removed.

The old relics consisted of a copy of the Hebrew Standard, the Hebrew Observer of San Francisco, (now the Jewish Times), the by-laws of the Congregation, an old Jewish Almanac, by-laws of Oakland Lodge, I. O. B. B., a few old coins, and several copies of the Oakland Tribune. Age had all but obliterated the words from the charred pages, the only legible remains of the early struggle of this people.

The cornerstone of the last Temple was laid May 1888, and the edifice dedicated the following September. Rabbi M. S. Levy, now of Beth Israel Temple, Geary street, San Francisco, the first pastor, resurrected yesterday, showed the following Fathers in Israel to have commanded the services: Dr. A. A. Bernstein, secretary; Leon Hirshberg, J. Green, L. H. Cohen, Max Marcus, A. Lippman, D. Stein, J. Letter, L. Alexander and A. Seif.

In 1902, the edifice was removed, the contents of the cornerstone intact, to the corner of 16th and Castro streets, where it remained until the present. But the march of progress, bringing to Oakland her share of blessings, proved the inability of the Temple to accommodate the worshippers, and the new building, the cornerstone of which will be laid at the appropriate ceremony at Sunday morning, will be the crowning glory of the congregation, a lasting memorial to the zeal, devotion and sacrifices of its members.

The services of laying the new cornerstone will take place at 10:30 o'clock next Sunday, to whom the public is cordially invited.

The ceremony will be in charge of the pastor, Rabbi M. Friedlander. Rabbi Dr. Joseph Krauskopf of Philadelphia, one of the most noted divines of the Reformed Synagogue, will arrive in Oakland Sunday morning and deliver the address of the day.

NAT GOODWIN MAY RETURN TO THE STAGE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—Nat Goodwin may quit the management of his cafe for the stage this year. He made this announcement yesterday, but declares his mind is not fully made up. He expressed the greatest satisfaction at being home with his wife, formerly Marjorie Moreland. Goodwin returned last night to his home at Santa Monica after a European tour.

"I have three offers from different managers," Goodwin said. "One of them is an English manager, but I am undecided."

"I finished my book while I was gone and it is now in the hands of my printer in Boston. It will be on the market when the holidays."

"Patience" to Have Augmented Orchestra At the Treble Clef Society Production

Will Bring Orchestral Features of Score Interestingly

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 22.—Paul Stolndorf is organizing for the coming production of the Gilbert & Sullivan opera, "Patience," by the Treble Clef society, an augmented orchestra, to present the beautiful music with which the opera abounds. Sir Arthur Sullivan did some of his best work on this score, and it is intended to make the orchestral accompaniment not the least interesting feature of the production.

Elaborate stage settings are being executed for the play. The Liberty Playhouse artists are at work now on the setting for the first act, the exterior of an ancient castle. The wooded glade of an oak tree stands on the university campus and is to be reproduced in the setting of the production.

Miss Ruth Carson is to sing the title role of Patience. She is possessed of a beautiful voice and has displayed much easily arouse strong feeling on both sides of the Atlantic.

Diplomatic exchanges between Ambassador Page and the British foreign office with regard to Great Britain's attitude in Mexico are likely to continue. Indications that Sir Lionel Carden, British Minister to Mexico, does not sympathize with the American policy toward Huerta has caused concern here, and while some officials said they were not seeking European support, it was made plain they did not desire any factor injected into the situation from Europe that would impede the United States in its negotiations with Mexico.

Officials declined to discuss Ambassador Page's cablegrams, but their dissatisfaction with the attitude of Great Britain was not concealed.

"It cannot be denied that President Wilson had some grounds for complaint against British policy in Mexico," says the State today. The newspaper considers a grave mistake was made by the British foreign office's hasty recognition of Huerta, which was in such marked contrast with its dignified delay in recognizing King Peter of Serbia.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Treasury Department has notified all customs officers today that the export to Mexico of riding saddles, stirrups, girths, hay and other foodstuffs and horses may be permitted as not in violation of the neutrality proclamation of March 14, 1912. This instruction follows a decision of Attorney General MacReynolds, who was asked whether such articles "intended for the Mexican federal army or for other purposes are munitions of war."

DIAZ AT VERA CRUZ.

VERA CRUZ, Mex., Oct. 22.—The steamship Corcovado, with General Felix Diaz on board, and the German cruiser Hertha arrived here today.

The Hertha anchored under the walls of the fortress on San Juan de Ulua, not 200 yards from the Corcovado. After the Corcovado had been inspected by the port authorities, a boat put off from the Hertha and set two officers on board the steamship on which General Diaz had made the voyage here.

At 8 o'clock Diaz had not yet landed owing to the series of delays said to have been caused by the formalities of the port authorities.

CLUBMAN PEEVED AT REMARKS, BRINGS SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—John B. Hauer, insurance broker, filed suit in the Superior Court yesterday against C. A. Haight, sales agent for the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Powder Company, to recover $5000 damages for alleged malicious slander. Both men are members of the Empire Gun Club.

Hauer charges that Haight made slanderous remarks about him in the presence of Frank M. Newbert and Carl Westerfeld, State Game Commissioners, and others.

Among the remarks which Hauer quotes Haight as having used are,

"John B. Hauer is a crook"; "He robbed his former partner, Guyett"; "He was crooked in his dealings with his former partner"; "How about his dealings with the Empire Gun Club?"

"How about his having the land of the Empire Gun Club deeded direct to him?" "How about his holding all the land of the club in his own name?"

Hauer says the intent of the latter remarks was to imply that he, in his dealings with the club, had been dishonest and that he had bought land for the club as a trustee and then attempted to hold it for his own use.

RAILROAD TO DISCUSS ALAMEDA CONNECTIONS

ALAMEDA, Oct. 22.—A representative of the Southern Pacific company will be present at the committee meeting of the city council Friday evening, October 31, to take up the matter of mainline connections between this city and Oakland mole.

City Attorney Samuel Poorman Jr. told the city council he thought that the railroad could be on hand to meet the men. The company contends that it now gives Alameda mainline service by operating a train when the horseshoe is not running between Park street north and Fruitvale.

The council will endeavor to have the special cars continue to the mole and run through Alameda from Pacific avenue junction east.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salt before breakfast
if your Back hurts or Bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which excites the kidneys; they become overworked from the strain and waste and poison from the blood, then we get sick. Near-inflammation, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and various disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding soon eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for centuries in kidney diseases.

It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink "which every one should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications."

Miss Wilson to Work for Large Y. W. C. A. Fund

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Although engaged to be married next month, Miss Jessie Wilson, the President's youngest daughter, has found time to help the Young Women's Christian Association in its campaign to formally begin soon to raise $4,000,000 within two weeks. At the home of Mrs. Willard Straight at Westbury, L. I., yesterday afternoon Miss Wilson declared that neither wedding nor wedding interferes with her interest in the welfare of needy girls.

A large audience of fashionably dressed women from all parts of Long Island listened to her vigorous appeal for aid in behalf of the young women.

"We think of the difficulty we shall face," she said. "We must strike right out from the shoulder; we must do a hundred per cent of the job or more."

Curry said he plans to call on Carr and Jacks, the two men who obstructed navigation of the river by steamers and schooners.

The War Department has already approved the project and the city of Napa is now furnishing the rights of way needed.

Curry said the project will be completed in time for the opening of the river between Napa and the bay cities in the fall of 1912.
